

WISCARES

We protect the human-animal bond within vulnerable populations through provision of veterinary medical and social services, increasing access to human health services, and providing education, social support, and community space. We do this using a one-health framework that acknowledges and leverages the relationship between people, pets, and communities. We provide quality training and research opportunities for students of participating disciplines, promoting interdisciplinary relationships and collaboration.

Boarding FAQs

We are often at capacity, and therefore require advance notice in order to place your pet. Once you anticipate needing boarding, visit our clinic as soon possible. We are unable to do same-day intake.

All animals must undergo an exam and medical history with a WisCARES veterinarian prior to boarding. Severe medical or behavioral issues may prohibit placement of an animal in our boarding program if safety to the pet or caretakers is a concern.

Clients can often visit with their boarded pets with advance notice.

We always need new fosters. Know someone? Send them our way!
